MESSAGE

April, 2018

I am happy to learn that the 8th World Ayurveda Congress (WAC) is slated to be held from 14th to 17th December, 2018 at Ahmedabad, Gujarat. WAC, organized by the World Ayurveda Foundation, has become an important fixture in the calendar of the Ayurveda sector, and the Ministry of AYUSH, Government of India has been happy to be associated with the same. I understand that the 8th WAC will see deliberations by experts on the theme, 'Re-aligning the Focus on Health',

Over 3000 delegates, including about 500 participants from over 40 countries, are expected to take part in the Congress, with several of them presenting their Ayurveda related work for the scrutiny of national and international scientists.

I am also told that through the associated exhibition and AROGYA Fair 2018, the general public and service providers/manufacturers will be brought closer to several Ayurvedic products and services.

By far, WAC has been hailed as the biggest platform in the world to show-case Ayurveda- a platform that celebrates this ancient health science of India in all its grandeur.

I sincerely hope that the participants, globally renowned speakers, and other stakeholders will make this Congress the best ever in its history.

MESSAGE

Ayurveda, the age-old health science of India, is steadily re-gaining acceptance in the society as a holistic health care system. The World Ayurveda Congress (WAC) organized by the World Ayurveda Foundation has played a critical role in this transformation ever since its inception in 2002.

So far, seven WACs have been organized in different parts of the country, and the Ministry of AYUSH has been regularly supporting this effort. I am happy to learn that the 8th edition of WAC is scheduled to be held in Ahmedabad, Gujarat from 14th to 17th December, 2018. In this edition, the deliberations and discussions will revolve around the focal theme, 're-aligning the Focus on Health'.

The 8th WAC is expected to witness participation of about 3000 delegates, including about 500 participants from over 40 countries, debating and discussing the various aspects of Ayurveda. I am also informed that the AROGYA Fair – an exhibition of AYUSH products and services planned to be held along with WAC, is expected to attract over 3 lakh visitors from the general public. All these make WAC the largest platform for Ayurveda stakeholders to express themselves and heard.

I urge all stakeholders of Ayurveda to make full use of this opportunity that will unfold in Ahmedabad. I wish the 8th WAC and AROGYA a grand success.

MESSAGE

Dr. Vijay P Bhatkar
President
Vijnana Bharati

Every two years, the admirers, practioners, entrepreneurs, teachers and students of Ayurveda assemble around the month of December to participate in the World Ayurveda Congress (WAC) in the country. The representation is not just from different parts of India, but also from all over the world. The atmosphere has always been that of a festival 'Celebrating Ayurveda'.

In December 2018, WAC will bring 'Ayurveda', the age-old science of health, in all its glory to the city of Ahmedabad, Gujarat. We shall celebrate Ayurveda with the people of Ahmedabad. Please mark your calendar: 14-17 December 2018. The focus theme of eighth WAC is 'Re-aligning the Focus on Health'.

With all humility, I must state that World Ayurveda Foundation, an initiative of Vijnana Bharati (VIBHA) takes immense pride not just in organizing this event exclusively on the scientific aspects of Ayurveda, but in popularizing this holistic health science among the common masses. We thank the Ministry of AYUSH, Government of India, in supporting this event ever since its inception in 2002.

We warmly welcome you all to THE BIGGEST PLATFORM IN THE WORLD THAT CELEBRATES AYURVEDA.

Look forward to meeting you all.

Invitation for Participation

The World Ayurveda Congress, popularly known as WAC, is all set to make its eighth appearance, along with Arogya Expo. This time, in a new city, Ahmedabad, Gujarat, as has been the tradition since the beginning. Why choose a new place for each of its edition? The strategy of moving from one place to another has paid rich dividends so far not only in terms of bringing this ancient health science of India back in the midst of people but also in lifting the sagging spirit of Ayurveda practitioners and other stakeholders up to a new level.

Notwithstanding the progress made thus far, we believe there is still a long way to go before Ayurveda becomes the first line of defence against all ailments, including as a preventive medicine among the citizens of this country. The same goes for taking this science to every nook and corner of this world.

Ahmedabad presents a new opportunity in that direction. An opportunity that everyone in the Ayurveda fraternity must lap it up. The debates and discussions on the various aspects of Ayurveda during the scientific sessions and the expo will make Ayurveda to take a few steps more in the forward direction. In that context, it is extremely important that we all come together in full strength and make it count with our presence and intellectual contributions.

On behalf of WAC, I make a strong appeal to the entire Ayurveda fraternity to make full use of this opportunity. I extend the invitation for participation to all our friends of Ayurveda located in different parts of the world too.

Looking forward to seeing you all in Ahmedabad during 14-17 December 2018!

With best wishes!

Health-conscious world seeks out Ayurveda

A world that is increasingly health conscious, and returning to its natural and ancient roots, completing the proverbial circle, spells good news for the world of Ayurveda.

A complete paradigm shift in our approach to the concept of wellness-- moving away from what has till now been an area dominated by allopathy-- has meant that people are now placing their trust and their lives into the hands of Ayurveda. With a growing awareness about Ayurveda, thanks to forums like the World Ayurveda Foundation, the suspicion and apprehension with which Ayurveda was treated in developing countries has made a turnaround, with people now seeking out knowledge and information on this well-rounded health system. A fear of things “synthetic” and “chemical” and with side effects is driving people to Ayurveda, seen as natural, without side effects, boosting immunity, and as improving quality of life.

A global comeback

Ayurveda is making a big comeback, at the global level. European countries like Germany have always held Ayurveda in high regard, and offer courses in the subject. In fact in German-speaking countries, Ayurveda has grown from being seen as a relaxing wellness therapy to a complimentary system of medicine.

Ayurveda-based Traditional Medicine Systems (TMS) are very much in practise in most of the SAARC counties including neighbouring Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Nepal, and even in Japan. Australia and Switzerland have given Ayurveda recognition as a bonafide medical system, thereby allowing the setting up of Ayurveda clinics.

The World Ayurveda Congress (WAC) is a platform established by World Ayurveda Foundation to propagate Ayurveda globally in its true sense. The first World Ayurveda Congress (WAC) was held in 2002 at Kochi as an outreach programme, to create greater awareness and opportunities in the practice, science, and trade of Ayurveda. The subsequent Congresses organised at Pune, Jaipur, Bangalore, Bhopal, Delhi & Kolkata not only helped in promoting Ayurveda within the country but also had a huge impact in propagating Ayurveda globally.

Previous themes at the Congress have included “Ayurveda and World Health”, “Globalisation of Ayurveda”, “Mainstreaming Ayurveda”, “Ayurveda for All”, “Enriching Public Health Through Ayurveda”, “Health Challenges and Ayurveda” and “Strengthening the Ayurveda Ecosystem”.

The 8th World Ayurveda Congress, with its focal theme “Re-aligning the Focus on Health” is scheduled at Gujarat University Convention and Exhibition Center, Ahmedabad, India from 14th to 17th December 2018. This opens yet another window to a healthier future!

RE-ALIGNING THE FOCUS ON HEALTH ■

8th WAC aims to redefine “healthcare” as the basis for health of individuals and populations. This is tangentially different from the current status it enjoys “as the tool for disease management”. The 8th WAC aims to put Ayurveda at the forefront of healthcare from this perspective, making use of its core values and principles of health preservation and promotion.

At present, majority of the factors that keep individuals and populations healthy lies outside of what is now considered the core of healthcare. Even those that lies within its ambit mostly deals with sanitation, education, nutrition, and vaccination. These factors are majorly dependent upon others, such as infrastructure, skilled human resources, environment, water, economy, and social/political situations etc., none of which have any direct link to healthcare or knowledge of medicine, to be available in a community.

By mooted the “Ayushman Bharat” scheme government of India has for the first time opened a new opportunity for Ayurveda. It has taken on itself the responsibility of keeping 100 million under-privileged citizens of India, healthy. This cannot be done, with the limited resources that we use as a nation, and follow the current healthcare model of disease based interventions. USA spent USD 4.7 trillion in 2017 to manage the healthcare of its citizens. You only need to read the daily news from US, where even the most positive of reports give a grim picture of its healthcare sector. Thus even economies with several times the resources that India has and much less requirements are not able achieve their healthcare targets in the current model.

By renaming all the PHCs as Wellness centres, the Government of India has shown its readiness to change this perspective. Major National Policy documents such as the National Health Policy 2017 and short-term, mid-term and long-term strategic goals as envisaged by NITI Ayog, strongly advocates for reliance on AYUSH sector with appropriate integration into mainstream healthcare system, for achieving the national healthcare goals.

Ayurveda has the potential and necessary knowledge base to support this requirement and share the responsibility. It can define health and identify strata of states of health, which are inescapable in the fall from health to disease. It allows us to define complex diseases with ease, based on the three doshas and the pattern it draws of the individual or the population. It also offers pre-emptive methods to prevent the fall and also corrective methods within the limits of health for an individual or a population. It offers clearly defined states for health of different population, which can vary from new-born to the geriatric. It offers with clarity the deterioration of health in NCDs with specific interventions for each. It identifies vulnerable populations with reference to morbidity, age, gender, or reproductive health. It also offers nutrition, possible rehabilitation, options for palliative care, and practical guidelines for mental health, suitable to each of these populations. Above all it provides a purpose of life and encourages one to have a purposeful life.

Nevertheless, these potentials need strategic policies and well laid plans and thorough execution for fulfil its possibilities. We need a road map for this. And before that we need to create a map of the reality, which shall lead us to the road map.

Mapping out the current resources and drawing out the possible paths of enquiry to achieve this dream, is the goal of this Congress.

Thus the 8th WAC shall initiate a new quest in the realm of healthcare, which will support the bold steps taken by the Government of India and also the Universal Health Coverage program of the World Health Organisation thus assuring sectorial equity and responsibility in healthcare for Ayurveda.

- It will strategize for initiating policy dialogues for appropriate integration of Ayurveda in the current Health systems, which will support to leverage its immense potential benefiting the entire humanity.
- It shall generate questions and seek answers for evidence-based utilization of Ayurveda to support unmet needs specific to populations and societies.
- It shall initiate deep inquiries, seeking to find the reasons and ways by which Ayurveda achieves preservation of health.

These questions which shall be churned out in the Congress shall lead to a global movement, seeking their answers. This could put Ayurveda at the top of the map, as the choice, in all health seeking societies.

STRUCTURE

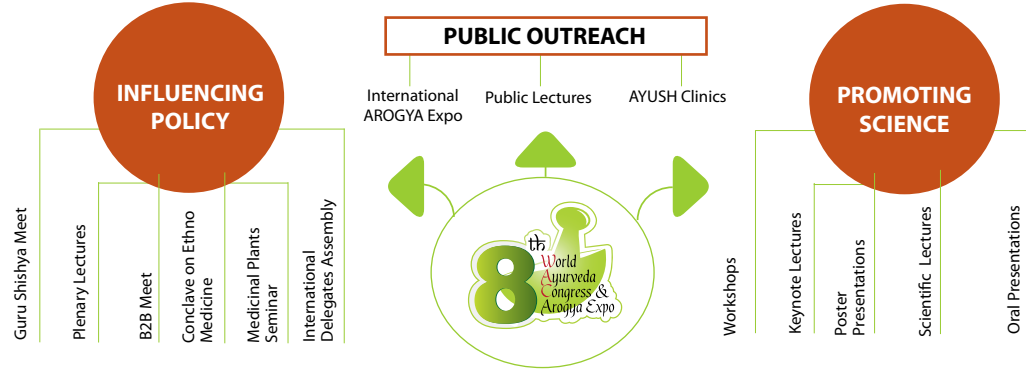

In order to have focussed outcomes, activities of this edition of the Congress have been divided into six segments to accommodate the following categories:

Unlike the previous Congresses, delegate registration for this Congress has been made 'by invite' to have delegates who are sincerely serious about Ayurveda.

MINISTRY OF AYUSH, GOVT OF INDIA

Created in 1995 as the Department of Indian Systems of Medicine and Homoeopathy, it was renamed as Department of AYUSH (Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy) in November 2003.

The department has become a full-fledged Ministry in November 2014. The Ministry focuses on upgrading AYUSH educational standards, implementing quality control and drug standardization, improving the availability of medicinal plant material, aiding research and development and generating awareness about the efficacy of the systems, within the country and overseas. Its declared objectives are as follows:

Upgrade the educational standards in the Indian systems of medicine and in homoeopathy colleges in the country.

Strengthen existing research institutions and ensure a time-bound research programme on identified diseases for which these systems have an effective treatment.

Draw up schemes for promotion, cultivation and re-generation of medicinal plants used in these systems. Evolve pharmacopoeial standards for Indian systems of medicine and homoeopathic drugs.

VIJNANA BHARATI

Vijnana Bharati or VIBHA is a national movement dedicated to the integrated development of Bharat through the intervention of science, engineering and technology.

Launched in 1991 by a group of thinkers and scientists, VIBHA has, today, 29 active units and 6 overseas units. Eminent scientists, academicians, policy makers and social workers are the torch bearers of this movement.

VIBHA takes the spirit of 'Swadeshi' along with the ethos of our culture. It emphasizes that science and spirituality should go hand in hand. VIBHA works towards rural development, technology transfer, and social empowerment so as to bring the fruits of advancement of science and technology for the benefit of the society.

It has received two national awards for popularizing science and technology: one in 2006 from Dr Manmohan Singh, Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, and the other in 2007 from Mr Kapil Sibal, Hon'ble Minister for Science and Technology, Government of India.

VIBHA works towards national self-reliance and a developed India. Towards this mission, VIBHA adopts, adapts, and assimilates the best from everywhere and associates with the best of universities, R&D organizations and other movements.

WORLD AYURVEDA FOUNDATION

Founded in 2011, the World Ayurveda Foundation (WAF) is an initiative by Vijnana Bharati aimed at global propagation of Ayurveda. As part of a larger intellectual movement under the aegis of the Swadeshi Science Movement undertaken by Vijnana Bharati, WAF is a platform that would take Ayurveda to the world for all the benefits mankind can draw from traditional health sciences.

The objectives of WAF reflect global scope. Propagation and encouragement of all activities – scientific and Ayurveda-related – are the core principles. Support to research, health-care programmes through camps, clinics and sanatoriums, documentation, organization of study groups, seminars, exhibitions and knowledge initiatives to popularize Ayurveda in the far corners of the world are the broad latitudes of focus at WAF. Ayurveda as a sector requires the kind of stewardship and voice that genuinely bring out the ethos of Ayurveda in matters that govern policy and planning with State and Central government administration in India and the world over. WAF is positioned to provide this much-needed leadership with its wide participation of various stakeholder groups.

The impact of WAF encompasses the areas of policy, action, public health, trade, practice, science and, above all, global outreach for the benefit of society and mankind.
